

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

If there is any value left in the First Amendment, it must not be further weakened by rules that allow further corporate welfare and consolidation of media. If you value your freedom, and the marketplace of ideas, you will not allow this consolidation. It is difficult enough now for opposing viewpoints to be heard. The airwaves are PUBLIC PROPERTY, not a gift to the wealthy. Totalitarianism grows when viewpoints are limited to those in power.
